Freshmen take their place in Regina's Student Council

Twelve members of Regina Dominican's Class of 2009 were recently elected by their peers to serve as homeroom representatives on the Student Council. The new Student Council representatives are as follows:

Room 104, the homeroom of science teacher Therese Lengerich: Alexandria "Alie" Schoening.

Room 112, the homeroom of Sister Cindy Broderick, O.P., theology teacher and campus minister: Hannah Bucher and Jenny Morris.

Room 203, the homeroom of English teacher Laura McCue: Erin Joyce, Cathleen Pike and Erin Sexton.

Room 221, the homeroom of art teacher Christina Giovannelli: Cynthia Cortez and Brianna Maloney.

Room 305, the homeroom of Spanish teacher Joanne Brixner: Kristen Kelly and Alexandra "Lexy" Pyles.

Room 308, the homeroom of mathematics teacher Karen Huber: Libby Costigan and Eleanor Schmerler.

The Student Council provides leadership for the student body, promotes harmonious relationships between faculty members and students, fosters loyalty to school policies, and promotes school spirit. The Student Council also plans such annual activities as the Dad-Daughter Dance, Gnimocemoh (homecoming), faculty luncheons, Spirit Week, the Variety Show, and Appreciation Week.
