Juniors, sophomores, frosh receive scholarship awards

Members of Regina Dominican's underclasses – juniors, sophomores, and frosh – received special awards and scholarships May 12 during the school's annual Junior-Senior Officer Exchange assembly. Members of the Class of 2005 will receive their awards and scholarships during the Senior Honors Convocation on June 2.

Junior Emily Forester received the Sister Rita Cecile Boyle Scholarship Award, a one-semester tuition grant to the student with the highest grade point average at the end of her first semester junior year who is the daughter of a Regina Dominican graduate. The award was inaugurated in 1987 by the Alumnae Association in recognition of the many contributions of Sister Rita Cecile Boyle, O.P., a teacher and administrator who also served the alumnae.

Emily, the daughter of Susan Fahrenbach Forester '74, has received Highest Honors for her cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or above. While maintaining these high grades, Emily has been involved in numerous activities at Regina Dominican. She has been a member of the forensics and Worldwide Youth in Science and Engineering (WYSE) teams, the Ambassadors Club, and the Spanish National Honor Society. In addition, she has served on the Student Council as a representative and, this year, as recording secretary. An Orchestra member, Emily has been highly involved in the school's drama presentations, this year playing Ermengarde in the Fall Musical, Hello, Dolly, and Hermia in the Spring Play, A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Junior Julie Roche received the Mary Jo Kunzer Memorial Award. Amy Kunzer, of the Class of 1991, presented this award in memory of her sister. The $500 tuition grant award is given to a junior who best emulates Mary Jo's love for art, zest for life, and appreciation for her peers. Julie has earned Highest Honors and has been a member of the WYSE team, as well as the National Art Honor Society. This spring, she received honorable mention for her artwork in the Wilmette Arts Guild Student Show.

The Liz Livingston Scholarship Award of $1,000 was given to sophomore Marguerite Maginot for her leadership and academic endeavors, her willingness to serve the needs of Regina Dominican, and her involvement in extra-curricular activities. Marguerite has earned High Honors in academics and has been involved in cross country, basketball and softball, among other activities.

The Livingston family established this award in 1990 in appreciation for the opportunities that that the school afforded Liz Livingston Howard '82, first as a student and later as the school's first director of development. Liz continues her strong commitment to her alma mater.

The Nancy Kane Scholarship Award was presented to freshman Amanda Riley. Alumna Martha Mints Boudewyns '74 established this award in memory of her friend. This $1,000 scholarship is presented to a student entering her sophomore year to recognize her school spirit and her "outstanding efforts toward academic achievement and school involvement." An honors student, Amanda has been involved in such activities as the Ambassadors Club; the annual dance recital, Orchesis; the softball team; and the Regina Dominican Athletic Association (RDAA).

The Patricia Bowler Johnson Math Award, a $425 scholarship grant, was presented to junior Anna Bohlke. Anna was chosen by the Mathematics Department in recognition of her service to the department. Anna is an honors student and a member of the Mathlete team. This year, she qualified for state competition individually and was a member of the school's Mathlete Algebra II team. She received the top score on the American Mathematics Contest (AMC)-12 test, and as a sophomore took third place in the Science, Math And Reading Test (SMART).

Two juniors received the Modern Music Masters (Tri-M) Honor Society $250 scholarship for their involvement in several facets of the Music Department. Katie Bott, who has earned Highest Honors in academics, is a member of the school's Orchestra and has played for such functions as the Fall Musical and the Spring Benefit Performance. Amanda Pantle, a High Honors student, is in the Regina Chorale and has participated in the school's drama productions, most recently in the dance chorus for the 2004 Fall Musical, Hello Dolly. Both Katie and Amanda are members of the Tri-M Honor Society.
